WWII U-BOATS LAND SABOTEURS

The Authority Group presents an original documentary portraying the historic battle of WWII ships in the Atlantic as they engaged in war with German U-Boats. Recently declassified materials reveal that a handful of German U-Boats sunk over 1,000-ships in the Atlantic and Caribbean causing chaos to convoys of freighters and tankers carrying troops and war supplies. In the first days alone, it was determined that one U-Boat sunk ten transports before returning to German bases. The newly disclosed information on the secret role of the Enigma Machine and Code Breakers including the dramatic landing of German Saboteurs armed with explosives are features in this historic perspective of WWII. Commanding interviews and vintage footage is used throughout the documentary.

THE WOMAN OF WWII

The Authority Group presents a chronological social documentary exploring the evolution and social structure of the role of women of World War Two. Prominent war veterans, historians and numerous on-camera interviews contribute to the story of woman as exemplary contributors to what is known as the "Greatest Generation". How they rose to the challenge by demonstrating patriotism and volunteerism that continues today is a focus of this documentary. Woman demonstrated an extraordinary range of capabilities that were monumental toward our winning the war. They were forced to make an abrupt transition from housewife to military officers, health care professionals, secret service agents, code-breakers, weather service technicians, assembly-line riveters, railroad operators, and entertainers. Post war, while many women returned to civilian living, they were faced with life altering decisions and career choices. Social issues surfaced and woman began to emerge as capable participating and skilled members of society.

MYSTERY SHIP OF WWII, SURCOUF

To the knowledge of The Authority Group the investigation into the disappearance of Free French SURCOUF, WWII represents the first time the world's largest submarine and its demise has been investigated, written and produced for television. Known as a poorly constructed menace that patrolled the Atlantic, Mediterranean, and Caribbean Sea never fired its cannons, guns or operated at full power. The ship and crew sank somewhere in the off French Martinique never to be discovered. The Freedom of Information Act facilitated the release of documents that enabled the Authority Group to further investigate and present an alternative theory to refute the common belief, disclosed in the documentary, of the ships demise. THE FRENCH SURCOUF's journey incorporates the allies and axis forces that are presented in detail.
